Korean Use For Human Hair.

Human hair is in great demand in some of the countries of Europe, and the supply is said to be inadequate. Our consul in Korea points out that there is plenty and to spare in the Hermit Kingdom. "The Koreans," he adds, "have remarkably fine heads of hair, and they put their 'combings' to a use that I have never seen elsewhere. A very large number of the saddlecloths placed under the packs of their ponies are made of hair woven into coarse mats or bags, and the halters and head ropes of their animals are largely composed of the same material. I believe that human hair is largely exported from China to Europe, and Korea could furnish a large and cheap supply did the people know there there was a demand for it." Here's a chance for some pioneer of commerce.—Westminster Gazette.

Mines of Petrifactions.

North Colorado and parts of Wyoming and Montana are genuine mines of petrifactions. There are petrifactions of every kind, including many varieties of wood, ferns and plants, fish, toads, snails, frogs, serpents, shellfish and objects which cannot be classified. The deposits often occur in layers, as though some great natural convulsion had destroyed the animal life of a whole district at once. The scientists make very few and tolerably weak attempts to explain the singular phenomenon, and the fact is evident that they know no more about the matter than do the men who pick out the best specimens and sell them to tourists.—Chicago Herald.

Nantucket Ahead.

Claimants for priority are constantly getting into trouble by making statements founded on insufficient premises. Referring to the mention by a Boston paper that a lady candidate for overseer of the poor at Dedham was the first of her sex to aspire to that office, the Nantucket Inquirer says: "Nantucket elected a lady overseer a year ago—Mrs. Malinda S. Barney—and again in 1894 has re-elected the same lady and another—Mrs. Susan P. Jones. So Nantucket is a year ahead and proud of the step she took."

Primrose & West's Minstrels.

Primrose and West, with their brilliant company of minstrel merry-makers, are to follow next Monday night, at Miner's Newark Theatre. This will be the one minstrel event of the season. Primrose & West are the acknowledged world's leaders in this style of entertainment. To minstrelsy they have devoted their lives. Its furtherance is their ambition; its proud destiny the realized Mecca of their hopes and their aspirations. They have advanced with it; they are bound up in it; they have devoted every energy. They have spared no expense in keeping this most genuine form of American amusement in the very front rank of popular entertainment. This year is the epitome of their career. This entertainment is new from overture to the final fall of the curtain. They have the best minstrel organization ever put together in America, and their re-appearance here should prove one of the happiest events of the amusement year as they present an entire new programme since their last visit. Sale of seats now progressing.

The 17-Year Locusts Coming.

The Department of Agriculture has published a bulletin stating that two broods of the seventeen-year locusts are due in 1894, and the insects will make their appearance during the last week of May. These locusts last appeared in 1877, and then visited this vicinity. The larva, which live under ground, begin to rise and show themselves about May 20th, the adults remaining five or six weeks. But the danger done by these insects to fruit and shade trees is usually unimportant. It is serious only when they multiply rapidly and oviposit in young nursery stock. In 1877 they arrived in New Jersey on June 1, and destroyed much shubbery, but their ravages were more unsightly than harmful.

A New Envelope.

Letter patents have been taken out by Miss Callmeyer, of Madison, for an improvement in envelopes. The invention consists in printing a small device of any shape on the under side of the flap of the gummed envelope in a sensitive fluid, stable when dry, but which will run or spread on the application of steam or moisture, thereby showing at once when a letter has been tampered with. The United States Government has recently invited inventors to submit their ideas for some means of detecting the unlawful opening of sealed letters.

Meanwhile there is the work of reformation. Those who are honest in this, and have the courage of their convictions, can immediately prepare themselves for service by resolving to establish three ideals—ideals, too, which every earnest soul can bring near to realization. First, accept and act on Ruskin's great teaching: "Do good work whether you live or die." Rational co-operation is possible on no other basis. Deterioration in workmanship, with morbid development of imitation, is a sure and telling sign of deeper deterioration

Kept Her Word.

Two young ladies were walking in the woods one day, when they were accosted by an old and much shriveled gypsy, who politely offered to show them their husband's faces in a brook which ran near by for a slight renumeration. So paying the sum, they followed the hag to the brook, as they were very curious to see how she could do so wonderful a thing and also anxious to see their future husbands. But instead of beholding the faces of the men they so fondly hoped for they saw their own. "We can see nothing but our own faces," said one. "Very true, mem," replied the sa-
